

School of Iconography and Iconology Prosopon

Iconology. Sacraments (tainstva) and Sacred Actions (tainodeistvia) of the Church

Iconology course with Vladislav Andrejev

The Prosopon School is offering a series of lectures by the founder of the school, master icon painter Vladislav Andrejev. This series will continue the course in iconology. Vladislav will offer meditations on the meaning of the feasts, rooted in the tradition of the Church, and the traditional sacraments (tainstva) and sacred actions (tainodeystvia). In the context of iconology, Vladislav proposes to consider a connection of each liturgical feast to the general life of the Church and the specific sacraments and liturgical sacred actions. Iconological reflection during the lectures will be, as before, visually supported by corresponding icons and original diagrams. Although iconology study is primarily curated for students of iconography, it may also be of interest to those who have never held a brush but are inclined to meditate on an idea of the image within spiritual and religious context. The unique approach of Vladislav Andrejev's teaching aims to explore the inner connections between daily life and our most deeply rooted Christian beliefs. Lectures are available to students of the Prosopon School of all levels, as well as to those who are interested in the interpenetration of art and religion.
